BRYAN, TEXAS, THURSDAY, AUGUST 9, 1917

NUMBER 47

THIRTY REJECTED BY LOCAL BOARD FOR BODILY DEFECTS

Up to Noon Today
Forty-four Had Not Appeared for the Physical Examination and Those Not Answering the Call Must Do Some Tall Explaining.

Up to noon today 252 men had been given physical examinations before the Brazos county exemption board, about thirty had been rejected because of physical defects that could not be corrected, eight whose names appear in the first call have already enlisted in some branch of the war service, leaving about forty-four yet to be examined. Some of these were on hand when the board resumed its labors, but a few are going to feel the heavy hand of the law for not having reported for examination. The latest ruling on this feature is that those who fail to appear for examination will be classed as traitors, the penalty for which is death. The board completed its examinations of those in the first call today, and has begun the work of culling out those who have been accepted and have not put in names for exemption. These names are to be posted and notices sent to those thus accepted.

Those who claim exemption are beginning to file their papers, and the local board will have three days after the filing of each paper in which to pass upon the merits of the claims. Most of the claims for exemption are based upon the plea of dependent wives, and occasionally upon that of dependent parents. These claims are sworn to by the husband, wife and some friend, who takes oath that the husband and wife are telling the truth. The penalty for not telling the truth in this instance is very severe and can amount to two years in prison with a heavy fine. The instructions and penalties are plainly printed on the blanks, but some did not read them. One young fellow appeared with his blank all filled out, and when the penalties were read to him he admitted that he had not read them and proceeded to tear up his claim. The claims for exemption, however, are heavy, amounting to seventy-five per cent of the total called.

Those rejected for physical defects are men with one leg, one arm, injured leg or knee, short arm, hernia, asthma, tuberculosis. Some of those accepted are almost perfect specimens of manhood, particularly the athletes from A. and M. college whose names appear in the list. These young fellows did not, as a rule, file any claim for exemption. A number of the negroes, particularly those from the country, showed up wonderfully well physically.

GERMAN DEMOCRACY SLIPPING BACKWARD

Liberal and Radical Newspapers See Signs of Loss in the Cabinet
Selections of New Prime Minister.

(By Associated Press)
Copenhagen, Aug. 8.—The democratic movement in Germany, which reformers were sure was getting such a splendid start in recent reichstag crises, now seems to be slipping backward on a down grade. Liberal and radical newspapers in Germany generally interpret the selection by Dr. Michaelis of his colleagues as a distinct rejection of the principle of parliamentarism or parliamentary influence upon the administration.

STATE MAKES MONEY FROM ITS OIL LEASES

Houston, Aug. 8.—The state of Texas already has made more than $18,000 in royalty from the Gulf Production company No. 4 state land well, out in the bay, at Goose Neck, and the royalty is pouring out for the state at the rate of more than $1600 per day.

Thus this one well already has paid the salaries of the governor, lieutenant governor and of several other state officials, and it has been flowing only 10 days. It came in making 12,000 barrels per day, and Tuesday the pipe line runs showed between 9,000 and 10,000 barrels.

The state gets one-eighth royalty from all wells brought in on state land, and as this well is out in the bay at Goose Creek the state of Texas gets one-eighth royalty from it. With crude oil selling at $135 per barrel, which is the latest contract price made at Goose Creek, the state is making good money on the Gulf Production company's investment.

The completion of this well can hardly help but start considerable development out in the bay.

LIBERTY LOAN NO. 2 PLANS ARE UNDER WAY

NEGRO WIFE KILLED IN BURLESON COUNTY

Burleson county officers notified Sheriff Nunn of the killing of a negro woman in the county somewhere in the neighborhood of the Chance plantation. They stated that her husband did the killing Monday night, and gave the information that, as his folks live near Benchley and he had been working in that section during the past year, he would be apt to go into hiding there. In accordance with their request, Deputy Sheriff Morehead joined Constable Lee Josey of the Benchley section and they spent the night beating the brush but did not bag the negro, whose name was given them as Clarence Blake, 27 years of age. The Burleson officers this morning, however, telephoned that the negro had been caught today.

BRAZOS BOYS FEELING FINE.

Bryan boys who have joined the navy and coast guard are happy and feeling as fine as Casey's goat that ate the shirt right off the line. Henry Locke, Roscoe Cole, J. D. COLLEGE BOYS WRITE HOME FROM FRANCE

A letter headed "Somewhere in France" has been received by President W. B. Bizzell from five students who graduated this year from the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas, and who received commissions in the United States marine corps.

The men from whom the letter was received are J. F. Blanton of Waco, D. S. Buchanan of Bryan, F. W. Wilson of Port Lavaca, J. T. Walker of Fort Worth and W. T. Galliford of Galveston. The letter follows: "Somewhere in France," July 18, 1917.

Dear Sir: When you graduated as on the second day of May, I don't believe you thought for a minute that we would so soon be so far away from College Station, but nevertheless here we are—five of us: Wilson, Walker, Galliford, Buchanan and myself. We are more than pleased with our situation, although I am sure that I for one would be happier if I were down around the old college.

Give my regards to Mrs. Bizzell. Sincerely,
J. F. BLANTON,
Lieutenant 45 Co. 5 Reg., U. S. M. C.,
Care of New York Postmaster.

FERGUSON IS FIRST MAN CALLED

Refused to Testify and the House Ad-journcd.

Claimed a Constitutional Right to Hear Evidence Against Him
Before Being Put on the Stand.

(By Associated Press)
Austin, Texas, Aug. 6.—General M. M. Crane, counsel for the house investigating the impeachment charges against Governor Ferguson, sprung a surprise at the opening of the hearing today when he asked Governor Ferguson to take the stand. The governor refused, claiming his constitutional right to first hear the evidence against him. On the plea of General Crane that this disarranged his plans, the hearing was then postponed until 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Representative E. R. Bryan, appointed by Speaker Fuller with the consent of the house to pass on admissibility of testimony, upheld the governor's contention as voiced by his counsel, W. A. Hanger. At this morning's session General Crane introduced the entire testimony taken before the house investigation committee last March. This let in testimony of H. C. Poe, former president of the Temple State bank. The record of the first investigation was not read.

GERMANS PUSHING ANTI-AMERICAN PLOTS IN MEXICO

Active Propaganda Being Conducted—Officials Fete Capitalists

El Paso, Texas, Aug. 8.—Circulars proclaiming that the United States is in the throes of a revolution and will be of no consequence in war against Germany, have been circulated by German propagandists in the states of Zacatecas, San Luis Potosi and others, and in Mexico City, according to Americans arriving from there today. The pamphlets are printed in Spanish and have been freely distributed, it is said. Circulars also tell of the success of Germany in the world war.

Juarez officials today were entertaining five German capitalists and German Consul Gelter of Chihuahua. They accompanied General Francisco Murguía, commander of the Chihuahua military zone, to the border on Sunday as guests on his special military train.

The Germans are wearing German flags with imperial seals on the lapels of their coats. They are being watched by government agents along the border. They are expected to return into the interior of Mexico with Murguía.

TEARS DOWN AIRDOME.

W. R. Fairman is tearing down the old airdome at Twenty-seventh street, just southeast of the Houston and Texas Central passenger station, and selling the lumber. Mr. Fairman has in mind the erection of an apartment house on the site, but is as yet undecided owing to the unsettled conditions in the country at large. Being so close to the center of the city and yet on the edge of the residence section, the site would naturally appeal as one particularly suited to such a purpose.

Authority of 1835 Is Still in Effect

(By Associated Press)
Austin, Texas, Aug. 7.—In an opinion to J. M. Edwards, state treasurer, the attorney general's department held that authority given to the governor and the council of government of Texas in 1835 to contract loans, by the "plans powers" adopted in 1835, is a pre-existing law upon which the legislature may now make an appropriation for the payment of the loans contracted under such provision.

It is learned there are a number of such loans now outstanding and under this ruling appropriations to meet them may be paid by the legislature. An effort is to be made during the present special session to have the governor submit the subject of appropriations to meet these outstanding obligations existing against the state.

The plan is to reproduce in Texas aviation schools like those at Camp Borden, Camp Mohawk, Camp Rathbun, Camp Seaside and Camp Armour Heights.

Lieutenant Denton was responsible for the laying out of the Canadian flying grounds.

A large number of the cadets recruited in New York will be sent to Texas to finish their training.

(By Associated Press)

Austin, Texas, Aug. 3.—The so-called "university muddle" entered the hearing of the impeachment charges today when President R. E. Vinson took the witness stand. He told of a conversation he had with Governor Ferguson in which the governor declared certain members of the faculty "must go." At this point recess was taken.

FERGUSON AND HOUSTON BANK.

Austin, Texas, Aug. 8.—Alleged financial relations of Governor James E. Ferguson of Texas with the Houston National Exchange bank of Houston were gone into at the afternoon session of the Texas house of representatives, sitting as a committee of the whole investigating charges preferred by Speaker F. O. Fuller of the house, who speaks in favor of the governor on the ground of alleged illegal acts in office.

The forenoon session was devoted principally to testimony of Henry Blum, assistant cashier of the Temple State bank of Temple, Texas. Blum today testified he was mistaken in his testimony given yesterday concerning a debit of $5,600 against Governor Ferguson on August 23, 1916.

Henry Fox, president of the Houston National Exchange bank was the principal witness this afternoon. Under questioning of M. M. Crane, counsel for the house, he told of the part taken by his bank in the arrangements made last March in clearing up the governor's accounts with the Temple State bank. The governor's accounts of these transactions was told when he took the stand in the investigation conducted by the Davis house committee in March.

Fox said his institution took up notes of A. F. Ferguson, the governor's brother, and J. H. Davis, his secretary, on March 8, 1917, for $37,500 each, the Temple State bank agreeing to maintain an adequate balance in the Houston bank. The balance on March 8, he said, was $76,259.65.

By questions and by the introduction of letters that passed between C. H. Heard, president of the Temple State bank, and Mr. Fox, Mr. Crane elicited the fact that the Houston bank was asked to carry the A. F. Ferguson and J. H. Davis paper no more than ten days, unless it desired to do so. The Ferguson note was actually paid on April 16, 1917, and the Davis note on April 23, the latter by loan from another bank, secured by Governor Ferguson. Mr. Fox said the governor had previously asked him to take up the two notes for $37,500 each.

"Do you know why?" asked Mr. Crane.

"No," replied the witness.

"Do you know that this took place just a short time before the investigation of the governor by the Davis house committee?"

Mr. Fox said he could not say as to that.

The witness told of the governor's accounts with the Houston bank and his having endorsed a note for the governor of $15,000. The note was secured by fifteen bonds of the Bastrop Lignite Coal company in which the governor was interested.

The bonds were sold, he said, payment being by check in blank on New York from a Galveston bank. The exchange was endorsed, he said, by L. A. Adoue, president of the Galveston Brewing company's board of trustees.

Mr. Fox said he did not know who bought the bonds but he thought the governor sold them.

EDITORIAL DEPARTMENT OF THE BRYAN WEEKLY EAGLE

Americans Not Choral Singers

Lack of variety in the character of the music and songs of the Brazos County Singing convention, held in Bryan recently, was the sole adverse criticism of those who made any criticisms whatever. They said, and with truth, that all the tunes had a similar swing to them, and gave forth the thought that religious sentiments had been set to ragtime music. It appears that the makers of books have catered to just this sentiment, knowing that the easily sung and appealing tunes and the religious sentiments, particularly if sweet and sentimental, would enlarge the sales of their books among people who have not had the advantage of musical education. Tied to these books, as have been the rural communities for years, they are not advancing musically. True, they gather in large numbers every year and have a good time, their souls are filled with better thoughts and ideals and they are improved by coming into contact with each other and by getting into closer communion with their God through the medium of these songs. Thus good is accomplished, but in effect they are singing the same tunes and the same words that they have always sung. The order of the notes may be changed and the words formed into different sentences, but it all sounds just as it did years ago to those who made the criticism in the first sentence.

With an organization of good, earnest singers already formed, here can be made the basis for just what the country at large needs. Because our patriotic songs are nation-wide and everybody is supposed to know them by heart, not one person in one hundred can repeat the words of any of these songs from beginning to end. The Brazos county singers should start right now and learn every patriotic song and be able to sing them on mass and as quartets. Books of patriotic songs written for choruses and four voices with piano or organ accompaniment can be obtained, and every society in Brazos county should take steps right now to secure them and have them ready for the meeting next year. There are other folk songs that are tuneful and full of sentiment and not difficult of rendition, such as "The Old Oaken Bucket," "Mocking Bird," many of the old hymns and some old love songs like "Silver Threads Among the Gold," that have survived the stress of times. Step by step the musical culture of the good singers of the county can be raised, and set an example for the remainder of the nation.

A war-revelation of no minor importance is the discovery that while Americans can sing they can not sing together. Unlike European, we have had few folk-songs near our heart to prompt us to choral singing, and what tunes we do know we whistle and applaud when bands and orchestras play them, but we do not sing them. A striking instance of our unfamiliarity with the songs of the nation is the fact that not twenty-five men in a thousand can repeat two stanzas of "The Star-Spangled Banner." This severe but sympathetic criticism is made by Mr. Arthur Farwell, president of the National Association for Community Music, in a letter to Major General J. Franklin Bell, commander of the department of the east, who gave consent to have it published in the New York Sun. At the request of General Bell, Mr. Farwell visited the officers' training camp at Plattsburg from June 11 to 21 inclusive, and tried a few experiments in mass singing. The results were such as are always to be expected when there has been no preparation, says Mr. Farwell, who addresses the general in order to state the reasons why company-singing in the army is impossible and impracticable at the present time. The problem is rooted in American conditions as regards community singing, and is a matter for a national awakening which, rightly directed, will "put a new and a still higher inspiration into the already inspired American army, and in the last hour of need will serve it when there is nothing else at hand to serve." We have had in this country no large group-singing until the recent development of the rapidly growing "community-chorus" movement. How then shall the army find itself suddenly and spontaneously capable of doing that which elsewhere has been made possible only through the genius of inspired leaders? To sing successfully in anything beyond the small group at a piano, certain precise conditions are demanded, at least until the custom is established and the songs are known, and Mr. Farwell adds:

"Among these conditions as they apply to the army are a good song-leader, the having of the printed words in hand by every man, wholly satisfactory lighting, a band absolutely and necessarily under the direction of the song-leader (i. e., during song work), music for the band in the proper key for men's voices, the right music, and a little regular periodic exercise in singing under these conditions.

"It is a wide-spread fallacy that all a crowd of people have to do to sing is to get up and sing. Every experienced song-leader knows that it can not be done. Company-singing is a different matter from mass-singing, but that is a problem that could easily be worked out, especially if mass-singing were made an established custom. But before the above-described conditions can have any value whatsoever, or even become possible, it is necessary to have the full sympathy of the military authorities in this uphill pioneer work and their aid in all movements, such as the work of the war department commission on training camp activities looking to this end. There is no doubt in my mind that they will give them enthusiastic co-operation when they once clearly understand the nature of the situation.

"Are we going to meet German efficiency in arms with American efficiency, and German efficiency and inspiration in song with American incapacity and half-heartedness? We have enough good songs, and more are coming fast. We have the voice, but no sense of get-together in singing. Will this war give the nation a voice and the army a sword of the spirit?"

German Cruelties and German Propaganda

Just because they were British seamen aboard a steamer that bore the unpopular (in Germany) name of Belgian Prince, was no justification for the wholesale and cold-blooded murder committed by the crew of a German submarine just now reported. To add to the crime of murder, the steamer was looted by the Germans who performed like common thieves.

This but adds one more to the thousands of incidents being recorded against the Germans, showing that there is no law and no custom, no sentiment and no scruples they are bound in any way to recognize in the handling of their enemies. Lost to all sense of decency as a nation, the Germans have lost the respect of all men of refinement and sentiment, those who have in some measure abandoned the eye for an eye and tooth for a tooth doctrine. On the contrary, the German takes as many eyes for the loss of one and as many teeth as he possibly can and with absolutely no regard for any principles which Christianity may have endeavored to set root in the world. The German regards his enemy as he would a venomous snake about to attack him, no matter in what helpless condition he may find him. Sometimes, as if to save his face before the nations, he does permit himself to make a feeble show of having something left in the nature of a heart, as in the treatment of the Belgians whom he has compelled to work for starvation wages in the shops of Germany, and has provided them with a hell on earth in which to be employed, with poor food and bad working conditions, as was revealed in dispatches a few days ago. The same dispatch said the Belgians preferred death to a continuation of work in that hell hole, and refused to renew the labor contracts under which they had previously been working, being punished with starvation for refusing. It is reasonable to expect that they will be given their preference in some cruel, dastardly, low fashion, for the German seems devilishly well skilled in devising tortures for those he hates.

Were it not that they are ignorant and misled fools, those Indians and negroes in Oklahoma would be classed with the pro-Germans who have had the peculiar audacity to speak in support of the German government and its acts of supreme cruelty as necessities of war. We may forgive the rank and file of those Oklahomans because they are ignorant and misled, but we can scarcely forgive and certainly cannot forget those men of ordinary intelligence who have upheld Germany in her atrocities and who, when and because the United States declared war, have probably not changed their sentiments. In the absence of other evidence in this country and in the light of testimony from other countries, it is not impossible and is quite probable that German sympathizers and German spies are inviting these people to rising against the government. Some color is given to this because the Oklahomans have expressed an intention of bringing about a revolution like that in Russia, and yet they are as a rule too ignorant to know much about Russia. Leaders among them who are intelligent have been arrested and it is these leaders who should be made to suffer the penalty. It is leaders like these and men who express the thoughts these leaders do who sustain Germany in just such demoniacal atrocities as that delivered against these helpless seamen. Preying upon the naturally inflammable minds of ignorance, they start something in different parts of the country, but in the end Uncle Sam will have them lined against brick walls and facing firing squads. He says they shall be run down and brought to justice, and when your Uncle gets real angry he gives justice with an exactness that cuts the offender to the heart, or the spot where the heart is supposed to be.

WHAT EAGLE FILES TELL OF OTHER DAYS

(Twenty Years Ago.)

Dr. Mark Francis of the A. and M. college knows more about "Texas fever" than Dr. Norgaard will ever know in his life, and yet the latter is being constantly paraded in the public prints on account of experiments which Dr. Francis perfected and proved long ago.

I. H. Newton has bought the Gregory place and is remodeling the house and making considerable additions to it. When completed the family will occupy the place.

Marvin Wallace and Sam Woods have leased the Citizen-Democrat at Calvert, and will make that place their future home. They are both practical printers and should succeed. To this end they have the best wishes of the Eagle. Marvin is a Bryan boy and has a rustling disposition and several years' experience to his credit.

Five persons, one of whom was a Chinaman, went down to the fumigating station yesterday morning to board the north bound train, but the conductor refused to unlock the doors and said he had positive orders not to take any passengers from Bryan.

Two packages of the Houston Post were thrown from the northbound train as it sped through town at noon yesterday, but they were taken in charge at once by the health officer and burned in the street. Not a copy escaped.

Mrs. L. L. McInnis, president of the M. I. C., requests all the members to meet at the residence of Mrs. C. A. Adams tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. This will be the first regular meeting of the season and all members are requested to bring quotations relating to Italy.

Judge C. C. Garrett of the civil court of appeals, Galveston, is here visiting his sister, Mrs. J. P. Parks.

S. W. Buchanan's barn burned yesterday afternoon, containing a buggy, feed stuff, plows and harness. Loss about four hundred dollars, half covered by insurance.

Miss Mae Cole returned yesterday from a trip with friends in Dallas and Fort Worth to California, Oregon and Vancouver Island. Miss Mae says she wanted to go on to Klondike, but the party was satisfied with Vancouver.

A party of eight music loving young men met at the residence of Mr. Frank Clarke Monday night and organized a quartette club. Mr. F. Marion Law was elected president; Prof. E. W. Kerr, secretary, and Prof. J. A. Moore, treasurer. Mrs. Mattie Hines was elected instructor. Admission fees and dues will be collected from each member, and suitable by-laws adopted. The club will meet regularly every Monday night. A large amount of music will be ordered at once from which to make desirable selections, and the young men anticipate much pleasure and profit as the result of their meetings. If successful, it is the purpose of the club later on to secure traveling musical attractions for public appearances here.

Prof. C. P. Fountain of this city has been elected president of Burleson college, which is located at Greenville, Texas. The college has a magnificent and well equipped building, and the indications are that it will soon be among the leading institutions of learning in the state. Prof. Fountain was president of a college at Keachie, La., for five years, and later occupied a chair in Baylor female college at Belton for six years. He is a scholar of unusually brilliant attainments and has had long experience which makes his selection by the Greenville institution a happy one.

M. H. James had better ship his thermometer to Klondike. Somebody will drop dead looking at it one of these hot days.

Speaking of Bryan as a cotton market, General H. B. Stoddard said Sunday that he had just made a shipment of 225 bales of cotton, raised by J. O. Chance and William Loppe, to Barcelona, Spain. The general added that Bryan has been making direct shipments of cotton to Japan for four years.

Prof. Smith and Prof. Philpott were busy yesterday supervising the work of putting the finishing touches on the bicycle path from Bryan to College. The track is in fine shape and is already affording much amusement for the cyclists. Mr. J. E. Aldeman made the run from Bryan to College on the track yesterday morning in 18 minutes.

Some Interpretations of Exemption Rules

(By Associated Press)
Austin, Texas, Aug. 6.—A conference is being held here today by the members of the four district exemption boards with a view of arriving at a uniform interpretation of the regulations governing exemptions from military service so that cases with similar statements of fact coming before the various boards will be decided in the same way. It also is the purpose of this conference to discuss plans for co-operation and co-ordination of work. These boards are in each of the four federal districts and each has five members.

Adjutant General Henry Hutchings and Captain George H. Carter are conferring with the board, the latter representing the state council of defense. It was at the request of President Wilson that the governor called the conference.

Finds Simple Way to Kill Boll Weevil

Galveston, Texas, Aug. 3.—C. M. La Pettie of Kingsville, who, with his two brothers-in-law and their families, motored from that place to this city, claims to have mitigated if not destroyed the destruction caused by the cotton boll weevil.

Mr. La Pettie is cultivating a hundred acres of cotton at Kingsville and states that he will raise 100 bales or a bail to the acre, and that the boll weevil will be a very small factor in regulating the size of his crop.

He states that after the plant starts growing well, every day at 9 or 10 o'clock he gets his hands to work plowing the furrows between the cotton plants. He says a study of the pests indicate that they drop on the ground from the plant and burrow just below the surface to escape the heat of the sun; the sun's rays are fatal to the weevil. Hence it is his theory that if the ground is kept stirred up, the sun gets the weevil and kills the pest. He keeps up the plowing throughout the growing season until he picks his yield.

Commissioners Deens and Thomas viewed the new bridge at Bird pond yesterday and stated that the bridge swags in the middle and will have to be raised before it is accepted. The timbers in the bridge are good.

Marshal Boyett says he is going to call the attention of the city council at its next meeting to the promiscuous shooting indulged in at every fire, and if possible will take steps to stop the nuisance which disturbs the public peace and threatens the safety of citizens, many of whom are afraid to stick their heads out of doors when a fire alarm is given, for fear of being struck by a ball. This shooting, everybody knows, is not done with any malicious intent, but accidents will happen, and as the practice is growing constantly, the danger is increased. During the firm alarm Tuesday night there were fifty or one hundred shots fired and the complaint of it was heard on every hand next day. The shooting is utterly useless, as other and legitimate means for making a noise are abundant. The Eagle hopes the practice will be stopped before somebody is wounded or killed.

GERMANS MURDER IN COLD BLOOD SEAMEN OF TORPEDOED SHIP

A British Port, Aug. 4.—Thirty-eight members of the crew of the British steamer Belgian Prince were drowned in a most deliberate manner by the German submarine which sank her, according to the account given by survivors of the vessel who have reached British shores. The chief engineer of the steamer, who many times was perilously near drowning, gave the following narrative of his experiences:

"When we were 206 miles off land I saw the wake of an approaching torpedo. The vessel listed heavily and all took to the boats.

"The submarine approached and shelled the vessel and then ordered the small boats alongside the submarine. The skipper was summoned and taken inside. The others were mustered on the deck of the submarine.

"The Germans removed the life belts and outer clothing of all except eight of us, smashed the life boats with axes and then re-entered the submarine and closed the hatches, leaving us on deck. The submarine went about two miles and submerged.

"I had a life belt. Near me was an apprentice boy of 16, shouting for help. I went to him and held him up till midnight, but he became unconscious and died of exposure. At daylight I saw the Belgian Prince afloat. I was picked up after 11 hours in the water by a patrol boat."

The second engineer succeeded in reaching the Belgian Prince before she sank. The Germans came on board and looted her, he reported. He was in hiding, but finally jumped into the sea and kept afloat on wreckage.

The only other known survivor is too ill in a hospital to tell his story.

UNIVERSAL SERVICE.

It's good to see that former President Roosevelt gets an enthusiastic reception when he advocates universal military training—in marked contrast to what used to be the reception accorded men who favored that movement. Universal service would benefit the country, but it would benefit the youth of the country now and the men of the country in the future very much more. If the United States had begun universal service ten or a dozen years ago—and there were far-sighted men even then who urged it, only to

PRIZE WINNERS AT SHORT COURSE AND CONGRESS ANNOUNCED

From Saturday's Daily Eagle
Rain broke up the general session of the farmers' congress and short course Friday night. There had been a heavy shower earlier in the evening and the clouds had moved off toward the south with the seeming intention of quitting for the day. Reinforcements, however, arrived about 8:30, just as Dr. Covington was explaining to the large number of people there assembled that pellegra is supposed to be caused by lack of nutritive food, not necessarily quantitative food, but a lack of the right kind of food. As a vast majority of people have a notion that the proper way to feed ourselves is to eat all we can of whatever we like, bacon and cornmeal, or any other similar unbalanced ration, it may have been the work of nature to stop him at an impressive period. At any rate he stopped because the roof leaked. It is a canvas roof, merely stretched over the seats to shut off the rays of the sun and not intended to hold water. It did not hold water. Water came through in streams, being filtered by the canvas. What few umbrellas were present were raised and the unprotected huddled as best they could in spots where the waters did not fall. Small boys were soon soaked, and using their every day clothes as bathing suits, had a free bath.

Congress Closed.
The various organizations comprising the farmers' congress finished their work, held their business sessions, elected officers and got away on night trains. The general session that was washed out was all that remained. Dr. Vinson, president of the state university, was to have delivered the address of the evening, but was not present, probably being detained because of affairs at Austin.

Dean Kyle announced a final rally of the canning club girls for this morning at 7:30 o'clock on the Y. M. C. A. steps, this being in the nature of a farewell ceremony after a week of splendid good times. He then announced that several prizes had, for the first time, been offered by the executive committee of the short course and Farm and Ranch had put up a cup to be presented to the team of canning club girls representing a county which won in the contest held Thursday. Also there were prizes for the agents bringing the largest, second and third largest delegations of club boys and girls to the congress.

President Bizzell made the awards and did it in regular camp meeting style, getting close to the people by words of praise tinged with humor and good fellowship. Before awarding the prizes he announced that Prof. Taylor had been induced to remain over until this morning when he would conduct a round table on lands and land tenantry, answering any questions that might be propounded to him.

The Farm and Ranch silver loving cup was awarded to the Jackson county team of club girls, composed of Olla Knapp, Jessie Lee Humphrey and Mary Lois Humphrey. The three girls were called to the speakers' stand to receive the gift and were loudly applauded.

Attendance prizes were awarded as follows:
For largest attendance, won by D. D. Floyd, agent for Ellis county, 41 persons. Prize, one registered Jersey male calf.

Second, won by L. C. Wilkinson of Jackson county, 24 persons; six books on agricultural subjects.

Third, tied by C. O. Moser of Dallas county, L. F. Arnold of Collin county and C. Merwin of Jasper county. They are to decide the contest among themselves, but the audience suggested swimming races, foot races and glove contests. Choice of three above books.

Prizes for women were awarded as follows:
Prize for largest attendance of club girls, won by Tarrant county agent, 41 persons; set of six magazines and books on subject relating to the work.

Second prize, won by Mrs. Gertrude Davis of Ellis county, 21 persons; choice of three of above books.
Individual prizes to club girls in the canning contest won as follows:
First, May Rives of Jackson county coop of Leghorn chickens.

Second, Vestar Pate of Brazos county, self heating capping iron.

Third, Olla Knapp of Jackson county, silver thimble.

The farmers' congress put up a couple of very handsome banners this year to be given for attendance records, but on a basis different from that of the short course. The congress took cognizance of the number of miles traveled by each delegation on masse; that is, a party of ten traveling 200 miles would have an aggregate mileage of 2,000 and win over a party of 19 that had come a distance of 100 miles and having an aggregate mileage of 1,900. Upon this basis President John Gorham placed the banner for the boys in the hands of O. L. Gray, assistant demonstration agent of Ellis county, who had 27 boys present, and whose mileage was 3,996.

The girls' banner went to Mrs. McCoy, assistant agent of Jefferson county, who brought 18 girls and had a mileage of 3,222.

Both Mr. Gray and Mrs. McCoy made short talks. President Bizzell said, in introducing Mr. Gray, that a few moments before he had called him off in a dark corner and offered him $1800 to come to the college with him, but Mr. Gray had refused.

In the course of a running talk in which he awarded prizes and made announcements and delivered pleasant tries, President Bizzell gave it as his belief that fully 2,000 different persons had been on the campus during the week. Not all had registered, not all had participated in all the meetings, many had come in cars and camped, many had spent some time with friends in Bryan and attended the short course and congress from here and many Bryan people had been out. He considered it the most successful short course and congress that had been held.

Propose Revolutionary Changes.
Among the resolutions adopted by the farmers' congress was one proposing a revolutionary change in the system of raising funds for the support of institutions for higher learning. In substance it is as follows:
Favoring adequate support for institutions for higher learning in Texas, expressing belief that it can be provided only by a direct tax fixed in the organic law of the state, recommending that the legislature should submit an amendment to the constitution providing for a stated rate of taxation levied upon all property, this tax to be devoted only to the support and maintenance of these institutions of higher learning.

A summary of other resolutions adopted is as follows:

Calling upon the federal government to begin now to make some preparation to assist farmers in the Rio Grande valley by supplying means for growing other crops as substitutes for cotton on account of the invasion of the pink boll worm from the Leguna district of Mexico, and calling upon the Texas representation in congress to lend its influence toward the promulgation of a treaty with Mexico so that government may authorize a survey for a dam across the Rio Grande, and calling upon the state legislature to do the same, to afford irrigation for substitute crops.

Thanking the railroads of the state for the very low rate extended for the congress, and expressing pleasure at the representation of the railroads in the deliberations of their agents here.

Thanking the daily, weekly and agricultural press for advance information published and for the reports of daily proceedings.

Indorsing the constitutional amendment to be voted on August 21, by which millions of acres of overflow lands can be made tillable, storage reservoirs built, drainage construction accomplished, and irrigation projects made possible.

Regretting that the last legislature failed to enact laws to protect bird and other wild life, which has been requested by farmers.

The finance committee's recommendation that affiliated organizations be assessed according to their ability to pay, and that none be assessed less than $10; that a collection be taken at the general sessions hereafter, and that the public be invited to invest in the congress, was adopted in another resolution.

Officers were chosen by the executive committee today as follows:
Fritz Engelhard, Eagle Lake, president; Professor J. W. Ridgeway, College Station, vice president; M. Falkner, Waco, secretary-treasurer (re-elected). Most of the affiliated organizations whose sessions ended this morning, also elected officers.

Oklahoma Trouble Seems at an End

Oklahoma City, Aug. 6.—With but two armed posses in the field Sunday night after armed bands of malcontents, objectors to the selective draft, Sunday in the counties in central Oklahoma, which for the last three days have been the scene of an attempted revolution against the federal government, passed almost without incident. Captures of the revolutionists, members of the so-called "Working Class union," the "Jones Family" and other organizations of kindred beliefs, have numbered 193, according to the best count available at Sasakiwa, in Seminole county, the base of operations of the various posses. Of this number 30 were taken Sunday, the large part of them sending in word generally by a woman that they were ready to surrender. Small detachments then would bring them in. One death has resulted from the man hunt, that of Wallace M. Cargill, an alleged leader, late Saturday.

PRO AMENDMENT PASSED BY SENATE

Washington, Aug. 2.—A resolution for submission to the states of a prohibition amendment to the federal constitution was adopted late yesterday by the senate. The vote was 65 to 29, eight more than the necessary two-thirds. As adopted, the resolution contains a provision that the states must be asked to ratify the amendment within six years. The house still must act on the resolution.

The proposed constitutional amendment is the first initiated by congress since that providing for popular election of United States senators approved in 1911. It is the first time that either branch of congress has approved a constitutional amendment for prohibition.

Prohibition leaders of the house now claim enough votes to insure submission of an amendment to the states. When the resolution can be considered in the house is uncertain, but its friends will seek early discussion.

LEMONS WHITEN AND BEAUTIFY THE SKIN

Make This Beauty Lotion Cheaply for Your Face, Neck, Arms and Hands.

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quart pint of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, whitener and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any drug store and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It is marvelous to smoothen rough, red hands. Adv.

PRODUCERS ASKED TO SPEED UP CUT

Washington, Aug. 2.—The government's shipbuilding program, as it will be carried out by the reorganized shipping board, provides for as many wooden ships as the country can build. This was made clear today to producers of southern pine lumber, called here for a conference looking toward speeding up their output of ship timbers.

The conference disclosed that, although the Southern Pine association pledged enough lumber for 100 ships, its members have been slow in furnishing the cut. This was explained by some as due to unusual sizes demanded, but they admitted that higher prices to be had elsewhere made many plants reluctant to work on government contracts.

BRAZOS COUNTY BOYS BEING EXAMINED FOR WAR SERVICE

From Monday's Daily Eagle
Examination of the first third of the 424 registrants called to the colors was begun by the Brazos county exemption board this morning, and practically every man was accepted, and but few failed to assert a claim for exemption. Those who made such claims were given blanks to fill out and swear to before a notary public and these they are to bring back to the board within the number of specified days, ten, from the date of notification that they had been called. One student for the ministry put in a claim and was given a blank.

Only six grounds upon which exemption can be claimed are fixed by the law, and these are as follows:

1. That you are an officer, legislative, executive, or judicial of the United States, a state or territory or the District of Columbia.

2. That you are a regular or duly ordained minister of religion.

3. That you were on May 18, 1917, a student preparing for the ministry in any recognized theological or divinity school.

4. That you are in the military or naval service of the United States.

5. That you are a subject of Germany, whether you have taken out papers or not.

6. That you are a resident alien who has not taken out first papers.

Should the local board decide against the applicant he may appeal to the district board.

Quite a number of registrants from this county have already joined some branch of the war service, and in addition quite a number not of registration age have also joined.

Those Enlisted.

The local board has received from the Texas adjutant general's department the list of registrants from Brazos county who have enlisted in the branches of service indicated.

May Shoot Draft Dodgers.

William Boyett was in charge this morning and called the men by numbers. These were lined in the hall of the exemption board quarters and down the stairs. Not all, perhaps, knew their numbers, and perhaps some did not respond to the call. At any rate the examinations proceeded in the order of the Washington lottery numbers, but every once in awhile some number would be called to which there was no response. Word may not have reached them that they were wanted today, or it may be that they think any time during the day will do. It is believed that there is no disposition in this county to resist the draft, and shortcomings as there may be are probably due to lack of knowledge and information. However, word has come out of Washington that short shrift of court-martial and the firing squad will be the lot of those who persist in resistance to the draft.

The iron hand of the full military power of the nation is ready. The opportunity is now presented to those who do not wish to serve to appear in orderly manner and present the government with their excuses. Should they fail to take advantage of this opportunity they are automatically enrolled as soldiers. If they then fail to appear for duty, they are deserters. The punishment for desertion in war time is death. And the full military power of the nation will be employed if necessary to impose the penalty.

Two Doctors Working.

Dr. James Byars, a member of the board, and Dr. B. U. Sims, who had volunteered to assist, took charge of the men as they appeared. H. L. McKnight and his son, Byron, acted as clerks to the doctors, and with their assistance work was speeded up. By 10 o'clock the doctors were so efficient that they were conducting examinations at the rate of one every six minutes. The men were directed to a room either to the right or the left as each doctor had apartments and a clerk and equipment. The boys were then told to remove all their clothing. They were examined for physical defects, the condition of the heart, lungs and other organs, the condition of the teeth, throat, eyes,

L. J. NOLAN SAYS HE FEELS JUST LIKE A BRAND NEW MAN

Says for Nine Years He Had Meant Case of Catarrh a Man Ever Had—Trip to Australia and Fiji Islands—Taniac Brings Relief.

"My health has improved so much since I began taking this Taniac that I feel like I have been almost made over into a new man," said L. J. Nolan, who lives at 216 South Twelfth street, Waco, and conducts a sheet metal business in that city, in a recent interview with the Taniac representative.

"I wish," continued Mr. Nolan, "that every sufferer from catarrh could just experience the wonderful relief I have in the past few weeks. I have been benefited even beyond my belief and I think it is time to talk for the benefit of others."

"About nine years ago I began suffering from catarrh of the head and I reckon I had the meanest case a man ever had. At times my eyes, face and nose would become inflamed and swell up, the mucous would harden in my nose, and I would have to use a hairpin to dislodge it. I couldn't keep a clean handkerchief and they would often become so soiled I would have to throw them away."

"I was in bad health otherwise, too. My appetite was very poor, I couldn't get any satisfactory sleep or rest, and I felt very much inclined to give up from a lack of strength and energy."

I took a trip to Australia, Hawaii and Fiji Islands and New Zealand and was gone three months, but when I got back home I was feeling worse than ever. I would sneeze and snuffle and was constantly suffering from all the symptoms of this awful disease and nothing gave me any relief until I began using Taniac.

"I am on my second bottle of Taniac now and I can breathe fine, day and night. The discharges have all about stopped and my relief has been a source of joy and comfort to me. I feel better in every way and I sleep every night like a healthy child. My appetite is better, I rest well and I have also gained several pounds in weight. I tried everything sold in a drug store for catarrh and kept getting worse. At last I bought Taniac and the change it has already made in my condition is remarkable. It has done great things for me and I feel it is my duty to let the public know about it."

Taniac is sold in Bryan by N. A. Stewart, in Edge by Moore & Payne and in Wellborn by J. P. Royder.—Adv.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR OLDER MEN

Because of the war many positions formerly filled by young men are open to older men. A man's kidneys may make him unfit for hard labor or clear thinking, may make him old before his time, for poisons retained in the system "slow him up" physically and mentally. Foley Kidney Pills tone up weak, disordered kidneys. M. H. James.

THREE FINE BRAZOS BOTTOM FARMS.

80 acres; 72 in bottom in cultivation, 8 hill land; 165 acres, all bottom, 153 in cultivation, 12 in timber; 210 acres, all bottom and in cultivation. The first two mentioned made 5-8 bale per acre and the last mentioned made 208 bales of cotton on 200 acres last year; are all in fine state of cultivation, free from grass and weeds; have improvements and wells; located about 4-12 miles from Chappell Hill, Washington county. Prices $80 per acre for the first two mentioned and $110.00 per acre for the last mentioned. Fred L. Amsler, Brenham, Brenham, Texas.

APACHES ON WARPAT.

Globe, Ariz., Aug. 8.—Apache Indians in the Sierra Anchas mountains, fifty miles north of Globe, are on the warpath and the two biggest asbestos mines in the district are tied up, according to a telephone message summoning help received here at the sheriff's office last night. Assistance will be sent immediately.

feet, weighed, measured as to height and chest and given a test as to hearing. The result of each examination was put down on a blank provided for the purpose, the registrant signed as did the examining physician, and this was filed away. The men then replaced their clothes and usually carried away an exemption blank. Questioned by Mr. Boyett and Mr. Arrington, who arrived from Millican during the morning, nearly every one claimed exemption on the basis of having a wife and children dependent upon him with no other means of support. Very few did not put in any claim for exemption.

The second third is to be examined tomorrow and the final third Wednesday.

No orders for the second draft have been received here, but the clerks are making up the list of registrants in this county in the order in which they will be called in accordance with the lottery numbers drawn in Washington.

Dr. James Byars, a member of the board, and Dr. B. U. Sims, who had volunteered to assist, took charge of the men as they appeared. H. L. Cotton is opening fast and the weed is growing and fruiting well in spite of the unfavorable crop weather, though we have had the blessing of one splendid rain, giving water and grass for stock and causing farmers to plant new crops of peas, peanuts and June corn. All of the young plants are needing rain. The well being of these field products is most vital. The world is needing them, but the burning, vital question with many is, "Will my boy be drawn for service in the army?" With many of us the boy has decided the question. He has gone with a smile on his lips, and the martial spirit in his brave, young eyes, to do his part in the place assigned to him. God bless them all. Soon some thousands more will be leaving their homes and loved ones to brave the dangers they know of and those of which they know nothing, for God and native land. Many hearts will be bowed down with grief because of their going. Many prayers will ascend to the God of Battles for their preservation and the safe return of the dearly loved son, brother or father, who goes to this horrible war mill, this holocaust of the centuries. Let us pray earnestly that it will end soon.

Steep Hollow

Steep Hollow, Aug. 8.—The recent showers have been like Moses' glimpse of the "Promised Land," so near and yet so far.

Almost everybody has cotton ready to pick but saving it doesn't seem to be much of a task this year.

J. D. Barnett, Jr., is erecting a modern little cottage on his tract of land in this community.

Even the war doesn't seem to affect the routine of weddings. The last "victims" of Cupid are Miss Ivia Jones and Elmer Bullock. While this was not altogether unexpected, still it was something of a surprise coming at this time.

The Steep Hollow Red Cross circle has now completed its organization and will begin work in earnest this week. We hope to accomplish quite a good deal even though we have few members.

C. B. Martin and sister, Miss Ida, left Friday for San Antonio, Hondo and other points.

Cost of University Education $244.22

Austin, Texas, Aug. 7.—There were filed with the senate appropriations committees today figures showing the cost of education at the University of Texas from the beginning of that institution's history to the present time. These figures are a complete refutation of statements made by Governor Ferguson on the stump that the per student per year cost of the university to the taxpayers is $540.

The authoritative figures from the records of the university show that since the beginning the cost of the university, including buildings and all other expenditures both for the main university and the medical department at Galveston, is $22.22 per long session pupil per year.

In this accounting, only long session students were included. The summer school students and the correspondence students are thrown in for good measure.

Texas Guard Has Strength of 15,000

Austin, Texas, Aug. 3.—The organized strength of the Texas national guard is 15,000 men and officers, according to information obtained from the adjutant general's department. Of that number, 4,000 are in the federal service, while 11,000 will be soon federalized and become a unit in the army.

It is only recently that 2,000 men have been mustered into the service by Major J. T. Stockton, assistant quartermaster general of the Texas national guard. These additional units included two batteries of artillery at Sherman and Paris, a machine gun company at Gainesville and infantry companies at Wichita Falls, Quanah, Vernon, Crowell, Childress, Clarendon and Amarillo.

The infantry companies have been assigned to the Seventh Texas Infantry, commanded by Colonel A. W. Bloom.

YES! LIFT A CORN OFF WITHOUT PAIN

Cincinnati Authority Tells How to Dry Up a Corn or Callus So It Lifts Off With Fingers.

You corn-pestered men and women need suffer no longer. Wear the shoes that nearly killed you before, says this Cincinnati authority, because a few drops of freezone applied directly on a tender, aching corn or callus, stops soreness at once and soon the corn or hardened callus loosens so it can be lifted out, root and all, without pain. A small bottle of freezone cost very little at any drug store, but will positively take off every hard or soft corn or callus. This should be tried, as it is inexpensive and is said not to irritate the surrounding skin.

If your druggist hasn't any freezone tell him to get a small bottle for you from his wholesale drug house. It is fine stuff and acts like a charm every time.—Adv.
